Title: Strategic Critical Conscious Module.

Conscious initiatives to explore the capability and traits of individual student, for helping them choose their passionate career paths.

Example of Process adopted for one career path in writing Architecture is as follows

The institution collaborated with professional firm "People Place Project" having projects in Writing Architecture through an MoU. A workshop in Writing Architecture was conducted for Second year students. Specific students who were found with the traits of writing, photography and travel were further sent to work in their summer vacations at this professional firm "People Place Project" of Ar. Nisha Nair.

It was made mandatory that these students worked under a live project of the firm. In this example the students worked for the book project – "Heritage Handbook – A walk through Mumbai Fort", a collaborative project of the firm and MMRDA.

The students who realised their passion through above initiative further joined the firm for internship in their fourth year of Architecture. This module as well as other similar collaborative initiatives in other allied fields, all spanning for three years have helped students in choosing their passionate career paths.
